ATTORNEY CELEBRATION SPEAKER

HALL IS TO MAKE ADDRESS

City Attorney D. J. Hall will be the speaker of the evening at the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the "Star Spangled Banner" in this city on the 14th of this month. Hall was asked to speak yesterday by members of the committee and declared that he would be very pleased to do so. "The Richmond Concert Band is to be complimented upon its activity," said Hall last night, "and I am certain that the celebration will be a great success. I will be only too glad to lend what assistance I can to make this as great a success as possible."

The program for the gathering is rapidly assuming shape and there is no doubt but that the affair will be one of the most successful ever held in Richmond. In response to the committee, scores of local talent are offering their services to the program.

CIVIC CENTER DISCUSSES BALLOT POLL TAX AND OTHER VITAL SUBJECTS UP

A meeting of the Civic Center league was held yesterday afternoon in one of the lecture rooms of the Lincoln school. Mrs. V. D. Geoghegan, president, called the meeting together.

By vote of the club, Mrs. Conwell was elected as a permanent delegate from this organization to the Humane society, of which the club is a member.

The first topic of the afternoon was a discussion of "the abolition of the poll tax." Prof. Helms was present and made clear the difference between a road tax and a poll tax. The road tax is levied by the supervisors for road purposes—it has been abolished in Contra Costa county. A poll tax is levied by the state on all males between 21 and 60 years of age, and goes to the school tax. In this state it amounts to between $800,000 and $900,000, or about the cost of running the schools of this state for one month. A point was made by Mrs. Gibson that it is about the only tax that everyone pays. The point was made that the people who own no property enjoy the benefits of our schools. (If the word "male" was dropped from the law all citizens would be eligible to this tax.)

The next topic taken up was that of the "bonding for the various cities, the harbor, and the university." There were almost as many views as people present—the saving problem about the discussion was that it will bring the people into a better understanding of "bonds."

Mrs. Gibbs expressed the thought that if communities are to be loaded with bonds it may tend to make them want to buy the bonds rather than property on which taxes are so high. Again, Prof. Helms stated that the question of bonding was one of the biggest of the day and that it was very difficult for those who have made the study of political economy a business to know just which was the best way to vote. He spoke of the state university being called a free institution, yet the fees charged for this and that are making attendance of boys and girls so expensive that it is almost prohibitive.

Mrs. V. D. Geoghegan, a brilliant woman, spoke against the municipal water bonds. She also distributed copies of the red light abatement law, with articles explaining the law.

DIME LUNCH TO BE SERVED

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlors this afternoon at 2:30. A musical program will be given, after which a ten-cent lunch will be served. This meeting was to have been held with Mrs. R. E. Marshall, but on account of illness is changed.

ALAMEDA PASTOR TO PREACH AT LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. Frank Ford of Alameda will preach in the Christian church on Sunday morning, while the Rev. C. A. Young takes his place in the church at Alameda. Rev. Young will fill his own pulpit in the evening.

BENEFIT TEA SOCIAL FOR CHURCH AT SAN PABLO GREAT SUCCESS

A tea social for the benefit of the San Pablo Baptist church was held Wednesday afternoon at the homes of Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Mrs. E. D. Dargitz. A large attendance was present and the afternoon greatly enjoyed by all present. Those present were Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Grimes, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. C. H. McCausland, Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. Bergerson, Mrs. Orth, Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Grant Beal, Mrs. Floss, Mrs. Kirkwood, Mrs. A. C. V. Smith, Mrs. Frank Sylvie, Mrs. Frank McCausland, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. Beckman, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Herbert, Mrs. Sisson, Mrs. Brink, Mrs.

SUCCESSFUL LABOR UNION IS TO BE PASTOR'S TOPIC

As a special sermon, on Sunday, September 6, the day preceding Labor Day, the Rev. Guy A. White will preach from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church on the subject, "A Successful Labor Union."

The sermon will bring out the part played by labor unions in the present day labor situation, and the possibilities for greater good will be brought out from the pastor's point of view.

"I believe that Labor Day is significant," said the Rev. White last night, "and I am going to express my opinions from the pulpit."

$200,000 FOR HARBOR WORK SURE; CURRY

That the rivers and harbors bill, which includes a $200,000 appropriation for the Richmond waterfront, will pass Congress, was the purport of a telegram from Congressman C. F. Curry.

The telegram was dated yesterday and says that the bill was made unfinished business at the Senate in the afternoon, which was looked upon as assurance that it would pass this session.

MOOSE DISCUSS PLANS FOR DANCE

Since the great success of their whist party of a few weeks ago, the members of the local lodge of Moose No. 550 have been talking about the grand annual ball to be given at East Shore park late in the month of October. Committees have not been named as yet and no date set, but the annual event came up for considerable discussion at the meeting in Moose Hall last night.

The entire company of Moose Defenders No. D were visitors at the lodge last night, but through some slight misunderstanding the banquet and big time scheduled was not held.

OIL SHIPMENTS TO ORIENT ARE ON INCREASE

With the passage of the war risk bill in the Senate, the Federal Insurance Bureau will open to business, and much of the cause for American boats sailing under the British and foreign flags will be removed.

The Standard Oil Company and many large corporations whose shipping to foreign ports has been curtailed during the war, will be able to send their cargoes with safety.

Employees of the Standard Oil Company report that during the past week a large quantity of case goods has been shipped, and as case goods are generally sent to the Orient, it is presumed by many that the trade with the Orient has been increasing quietly but surely.

The change in registry which may affect the Standard Oil Company boats, which now ply to and from this port, and out of San Francisco bay, is large in extent.

Among the ships of the Standard Oil Company which now fly foreign flags are the Kanakuk, Ponus, Uncas, Winamac, Satana, Tatarax, Samoset, Masconoma, Niagara, Wabash, Tuscloosa, Shabonee, Sequoyah, Ranella, Buffalo, Phoebus, Harport, Hesperus and Adorna. The combined tonnage of the Standard Oil fleet is about 70,000.

WALKER HERE FROM GRAYS HARBOR

Attired after the fashion of a cowboy, with a broad sombrero, William Fox was taken to the police station last night by Officer Sprague.

According to the story he told the police, he is 18 years old, and in company with his brother walked to Richmond from Grays Harbor, a northern seaport. He claims to have relatives living in San Francisco and said he intended to end his trip in that city.

The police department stated last night that the boy said that he lost track of his brother near the tunnel, and could not locate him. The police department did not see anything of the brother up to a late hour last night.

DRILL TEAM TO MEET IN MOONLIGHT

A dress parade and grand rehearsal of the competitive drill teams of the Uniform Rank, King Pythias, and Company F, Moose Defenders, will be held at the street ball park, Monday night rehearsal will be held by the big the moon, following a parade down Macdonald avenue, led by the Richmond concert band.

The big drill will be held on September 20, preceding the Richmond Petaluma game, and will be judged by three officers from the Presidio.

A change in name has been made for the uniformed men of the Moose lodge and instead of being known as the military branch of L. O. O. M they will hereafter go under the name of Moose Defenders, Company F. This decision was reached at the convention of the Grand Lodge, just adjourned at Milwaukee.

BRIGADE BOYS TO ORATE

The Spanish War Veterans will be hosts tonight to the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Spanish War Veterans, the Grand Army of the Republic and the Ladies' Circle. Invitations have been sent to the members of the orders, and a program of entertainment and an elaborate "feed" have been prepared.

A feature of the entertainment part of the program will be the oratorical attempts by members of the Boys' Brigade, who will participate. Humorous themes have been assigned to the various speakers listed, and much laughter is promised during the efforts of the ardent imitators of Patrick Henry.

Agee Reynolds, who is hailed as a clever speaker, despite his 14 years, will deliver an address upon the edifying subject, "How much better the Boys' Brigade will be when grown than the Spanish War Veterans." He has material enough to last several minutes, and has practiced his speech for the past week.

The program will also include musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental.

The menu for the banquet is in the hands of Oscar Long, who has been

UNION MEN ONLY ARE EMPLOYED

All of the employees working on the improvement of Pullman avenue are union men. They are all Richmond residents and the Municipal Improvement Co., which concern has the contract for the work, has as far as possible used Richmond material for the work. A concern like the Municipal Improvement Co. is deserving of the support of the laboring classes and they are certain to get it.

Not only is the company receiving more satisfactory results in progress of the contract, but they are also keeping money in circulation in Richmond. These are the kind of companies Richmond should have.

FORMER WAR SECRETARY SPEAKER HERE TONIGHT

To promote a knowledge of the workings of the Inland Waterways Association of California, a public meeting will be held tonight in the council chambers.

Several well known speakers will address the meeting and suggestions for the promotion of prosperity in Richmond and a discussion of the situation in this city will take place.

WAR HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON MAIL SERVICE HERE

The local postoffice, according to a statement from Postmaster Jenkins, has noticed much difference in the volume of foreign mail.

In spite of the fact that Richmond has a large foreign population, and that much foreign mail is handled by this office, the volume has remained nearly normal during the war time.

In San Francisco a sudden influx of 10,000 foreign letters was reported, and some of the large volume may reach the Richmond office, although the postmaster stated last night that the most of the foreign mail came direct to this city.

In the large batch of mail received at San Francisco, the greater percentage was from England, and the latest postmark was August 22.

WOMEN WILL COMPETE IN COOKING

The ladies of the Presbyterian and Christian churches will hold a baking contest in A. O. U. W. Hall Thursday, September 10, and also will render a program, each church preparing a part. Every cake, pie, biscuit, etc., that enters the contest must be baked with Califfene, a substitute for butter or lard shortening. The program will consist of music and speeches.

FIVE TAKEN INTO FOLDS OF YEOMEN

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen held an initiatory meeting in Pythian Castle, taking in Mrs. Dora E. Perry, Mrs. Stanley S. Meacham, Mrs. Ethel E. Thomas and Charles Cook. State Manager W. J. Elliott was expected, but at a late hour wired he would be in Fresno. When the work of the meeting was over, ice cream and cake were served in the banquet room, and at 11 o'clock dancing was begun in the ball room.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS FORMED

The Richmond Athletic and Baseball club, now in process of organization, and with twenty-one members already signed, asked the police department for a license.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

Sobr, second thought is influencing the Administration program with reference to the creation of a merchant marine. It is coming to be recognized as perilous. In an interview, Senator Lodge points out some of the dangers, declaring that the first step taken would be a violation of our pledge of strict neutrality. A result of the purchases proposed would be that a large sum of money now belonging to the United States would go to Germany, relieving to the extent of its amount the strain upon that country. The senator protests that while half a dozen steamers owned by the government could carry but an insignificant fraction of the exports we desire to make, they would check all private enterprise. After asserting it to be other than consonant with neutrality to give Germany $25,000,000 for steamers she cannot use, he goes on to say:

"Far more grave, however, than the interference with trade will be the international complications which these government owned ships are certain to produce. Are they to be regarded and treated as merchantmen, or are they public vessels of the United States on the same footing as our ships of war? It seems impossible that they should be treated as merchantmen under the rules of international law. If one of them should be stopped when classed as a merchantman it would be at the worst only a diplomatic incident for which reparation could easily be made, but if a ship of the United States engaged in commerce and yet retaining the character of public vessels should be stopped for any reason, that would be an act of war. If one of the German cruisers which are now said to be roaming over the Atlantic should hold up one of these government owned vessels because she believed this vessel was carrying contraband of war, the arrest would constitute an act of war against the United States.

"If England or France believed that one of these government owned vessels was carrying supplies, say, oil, to Germany by way of Holland, and should stop that ship as they would a merchantman and turn her back it would be an act of war. In the supposed case of the Pacific.

cluding the pursuit of the police, although their tires have no armor and their engines not much protection against being shot full of holes, one can believe that an armored car carrying an engineer, a soldier, and a man at the crank of the mitrailleuse under command of an officer, is a valuable instrument for reconnaissance and a source of danger in close quarters, such as this Belgian is reported to have come into half a dozen times in his forays. The report that the Belgian army is now equipping many cars after the Henkart model is more credible that the report that Henkart killed twenty-five Germans one day and twenty-one the next. Even if he dealt half that destruction he has added a new terror to war.

JAPAN'S DECLARATION OF WAR.

Americans generally will not regard Japan's declaration of war against Germany as based on what can be ethically defended as a cause of hostilities between nations. In this, however, it does not differ from the European declarations of war. Japan is playing her own game, like the other Powers. She wants Kiaochau for herself. Perhaps she has an even greater anxiety to get the German islands in the Pacific. The Japanese islands are over-populated, and neither Korea nor Formosa has offered the outlet she desired.

The theory at Tokio is, of course, that Germany is so busy with the allies that she cannot pay any attention to the Far East; that her great fighting ships are bottled up by England's superior force in the North Sea, and that Japan's own navy will be practically unopposed in the Pacific. This seems to be good reasoning. The two hundred square miles of Chinese territory is most important in maintaining Japan's hegemony of the yellow races. But the north section of New Guinea, the Bismarck Archipelago, the Caroline Islands, the Marshall Islands, the Ladrões, and the Samoan Islands are the great prizes.

Now in the Ladrões, the United States has Guam; in the Samoan Islands it has Tutuila. If Japan succeeded Germany in control, our coaling stations would be cheek-by-jowl with those of Japan at two points in the Pacific.

Japan would have occupied higher ground if she had simply ed Germany to cancel the lease of land over Kiaochau to China. At demand, like the one she actually made, would have been refused, and she would still have had opportunity in the Pacific. But reality has little to do with the wishes of nations, West or East.

TRADE OPPORTUNITY.

is worth bearing in mind in the United States that while the European war cuts into markets which in 1911 took $1,000,000,000 of our exports, it opens up markets which improved will offer full compensation. The European trade will not be entirely lost. For food supplies the demand will be greater than ever. The distinctive feature, however, is in the increased market for manufactured goods that can be found in South America, and to less extent in Asia, Africa and Australia.

For instance, Argentina in 1912 received from England $115,000,000 of exports and from Germany $60,000,000. Brazil took about $90,000,000 from Germany and France. Chile's imports from Great Britain and Germany were $75,000,000. Adding the trade with other European countries, there is a total of about $500,000,000 of trade per year to be secured from these three republics if the United States fully utilizes its opportunities. The entire trade of South America from the whole world is $900,000,000. We may capture so much of it as to fully compensate for whatever losses we may be called to suffer in Europe.

A reform in the methods of exchange, so that payments can be made without the intervention of London, will be desired. Then the study of South American markets, the proper packing of goods and so on through many details are necessary to the fullest development of this trade.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

CONFUSION AND A CASE IN POINT.

Secretary Bryan has been asked to send a representative to meet a committee appointed by the 400 passengers who chartered the steamer Principe di Udine, and who arrived from Europe. He should not only comply, but make a good selection.

"Mr. Jones" asked the State Department to make a special effort to locate his wife and children, depositing $1500 to insure the government against the loss of any disbursements it might make in his behalf. He was assured that the special effort would be made, and was told that the cable would be mustered into service immediately. Nineteen days later he discovered that the cablegram prepared for transmission was still on file in the department.

Then came another deposit, this time of $1000. But it was not entrusted to the government, a bank becoming custodian of the money. In two days this institution located the missing family. It may be remarked that the State Department had added thirty extra clerks to its force; also, that with the addition has come additional confusion. Our correspondent's account is worth reading. Being no laughing matter, readers should resist the temptation to smite at it.

Of one record made, the country has no reason to be ashamed. Of course, it is not official. Those who were fortunate enough to have dealings with the American Express company are not among the complainants. A few lessons taken from that company by the State Department might not have the effect of evolving order out of chaos, but they could hardly make things worse.

THE WAR IN THE SKIES.

As far as the heavens are concerned, the fighting has been tame. On the other hand, aeroplanes have proved as scouts far beyond anything expected of them. A French aviator told of the coming of the Germans and gave the French warning to get ready for them. Around Liege the Belgian aeroplanes have kept the allies constantly informed as to the movements of the several German corps. It would seem, in the light of these facts, that a surprise is an impossibility today. The aviator scouts overhead, "the eyes" of the army as they are called, can see the formation and movement of the enemy miles away, and report as to the number and character of the forces and upon what point they are marching. The armies may find greater use for their aeroplanes with the experience of the next few months and we may yet witness the sky battle we have been looking for, but even if we do not, and the aviators figure mainly as aerial scouts, they have effected a wonderful change in warfare.

ART IN WARTIME.

Interested persons are urging the government at Washington to use its influences to preserve the art treasures of Europe from destruction during hostilities. Men versus art is an old controversy; but the destruction of both men and art leaves no doubt of where civilization stands. It will, indeed, be a terrible added price if the ancient public buildings through the war zone suffer from the chance shells of bombardment. Preventing the destruction is another matter. If the walls of Namur shade a venerable church, nothing but demolition can be expected even of the most altruistic of foes. We can only congratulate ourselves that vandalism of ancient buildings will not be tolerated by a modern victor, and that the Napoleonic days of replenish the art galleries of the conqueror by force of arms are gone.

If New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois pay a half of the money Uncle Sam collects from the income tax, the three states will be hit hard by any increase of that tax. Unfairness seems to be adequately proven in the administration as well as the inception of this taxation plan.

Richard Croker, friends say, is coming to New York to jump on Charles F. Murphy for the political "blunder" of nominating Whitman for district attorney. Perhaps Murphy doesn't tremble much. He knows Croker is only the shadow of a sentiment now, and shadows are not dangerous.

Club Mendelssohn Entertained At T.T. Cramer Home

Club Mendelssohn met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. T. T. Cramer at the Point, who was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. S. Moyle. Their program was opened by each member responding to roll call with some topic of current interest. The whole program was in keeping with the time of year, which is in celebration of the state of California into the Union. Mrs. Paul Dunlap gave an account of all the forts, and Mrs. C. M. Arnold read a paper on the missions of the state, the one distinctive feature of the early settlers. Mrs. H. G. Stidham told some spicy stories of the early governors. Miss Myrtle Jenkins sang, "I Love You, California." Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess of the afternoon. Club Mendelssohn have decided to give one number in the program being prepared for the celebration of the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner," by Francis Scott Key, September 14, 1814.

STUDENTS GIVE READING

An excellent reading of "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," by Miss Vera Wyatt and Miss Mayranna Mount, was the well received feature of the regular meeting of the Rodeo dramatic, literary and debating society in the auditorium last night.

Talk on the recent events of the great European struggle were given by Donald McGregor, Clarence Cain, Paul Follett and Donald Gray. Five dollars were voted to buy books on monologues and dialogues for the use of members of the society.

The meeting was well attended, over forty members being present at the session.

TWO MEMBERS INITIATED BY F. A. A.

Celebrating the first meeting in their new home, the Fraternal Aid Association last night initiated two new members into the society. They were Miss Laura Humphrey and Miss Gladys Humphrey.

Last night's meeting was the first meeting in Pythian Castle for the Aid Association, they having moved from A. O. U. W. hall during the past week. In the future meetings will be held every Thursday night instead of every other Wednesday, as before.

REBEKAHS TO INVADE SUGAR CITY OCT. 10

Members of Rebekah Lodge No. 206 were busy practicing a new and complicated initiation drill last night.

Preparations are being made by about thirty members to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Crockett Lodge, in the "sugar city," on October 10. An invitation was extended to the lodge by a representative present at the meeting last night. A committee to handle the excursion has been named and is composed of Ernest L. Dyer, H. Edgar, Carl Jungstrom, Earl Williams, G. Gullander and E. Inman.

Arrangements for an entertainment, the returns of which will be donated to the Orphans' Home fund, have been placed in the hands of a committee composed of Mrs. M. Shea, Mrs. E. Conley, Mrs. A. Clark, Mrs. H. Edgar and Mrs. M. Anderson. The entertainment will be held in Bank Hall September 21.

The meeting last night was ended up with a good old time watermelon feed, which was arranged for by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. H. Edgar and Mrs. J. H. Duus.

HURT IN FALL FROM FREIGHT

Joaquin Rodriguez, a laborer in the employ of the L. L. Page Construction Company, residing at San Pablo, was hurt yesterday following a fall from a rapidly moving freight train, on which it was alleged that the man was stealing a ride.

He was taken to the Abbott hospital and his wounds were found to consist of several abrasions and cuts on the face and chest, and bruised body.

FUNERAL OF YOUTH HELD

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Rust home of little Harold Otto Palmberg, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Palmberg. The lad died after eight weeks of an infantile disease. The services were conducted by Bert Turry and interment was at Sunset View cemetery.

A Horse Is Worthless

Unless he is correctly shod. To shoe a horse correctly, a shoer must have experience and knowledge. I have studied shoeing for 16 years, having graduated from the shoeing school in Altona, Germany in August, 1902 and I ought to know something about it and I do. But I don't know it all, in fact I never expect to. You see there is so much to shoeing horses correctly that a man doesn't live long enough to learn it all. That's why you cannot afford to have an inexperienced man to work on your horses.

LABOR NEWS

"In unity there is strength, united

CHARLES NELSON CO., PRESIDENT BEFORE THE U. S.

James Tyson, president of the Charles Nelson company, and operator of both open and closed shop lumber plants on the Pacific Coast, appeared at the hearing of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations yesterday afternoon in the guise of a so-called employer.

Tyson confessed to a desire to see everybody in his employ happy and contented, to find his camps in excellent sanitary condition; with good lodgings. His preferences in workers are family men, those employees who have wives and children dependent upon them.

He said, too, that he was in accord with much of the modern legislation designed for the care and comfort of toilers.

WHAT UNIONS DID.

Tyson had subscribed to the statement that he disagreed with P. H.
McCarthy's utterances on Tuesday that much of the social legislation of recent years—practically all the legal enactments that contributed to the betterment of working conditions—had resulted from the labor unionists' activity. The witness was careful to say that he disagreed with McCarthy only in so far as the workmen's compensation act was concerned.

However, this prompted Commissioner Garretson to inquire if Tyson knew of any cases on record where the employing class had ever suggested changes in laws, either in legislative sessions or in the councils of business associations, that brought about improved social or working conditions for the men.

"No," Tyson answered, "I don't think that it is human nature."

He followed this up with a description of his own lumber camp at Humboldt bay.

EMPLOYEES 1000 MEN.

"We employ nearly a thousand men, fully 50 per cent of whom are married and have families," was the effect of Tyson's answer. "I like to see our camp in good order, sanitary and the like. I like to see the children running around and enjoying themselves. We have a school, erected by the company and taught by teachers of the county; a hall where the workers congregate; moving picture shows, talking machines and sports of all sorts. We have a fire department and hold competitive drills and sporting events. The company even donates prizes. The camp is isolated and the men do not get drunk and indulge in foolish dissipations. We do not permit saloons on the premises."

One of the commissioners attempted to interrupt, but the witness hastened to add that there might be no mistaking his views. He said he did not care to take any of the glory for the conduct of such a camp. Humanitarianism did not enter into his theories, he said, it was simply good business.

TO REFUTE MCCARTHY.

Much of the lumberman's testimony was given in the hope of refuting certain statements made by P.
H. McCarthy. For the most part his answers were carefully worked out, although they savored of the open shop view. Once the commission placed Tyson in a difficult position, from which he failed to extricate himself. This related to the existence of unions. Tyson said he objected to strikes and the violent tactics resorted to.

He was asked as to just what tactics a union might be expected to pursue when they had a just cause for strike; what means they might employ to secure redress from the employers. To which he made reply that he didn't know. From his own point of view he couldn't conceive of such a condition where the proper demands of the men would not bring returns from the employer.

THE FORTUNATE (?) SAILOR.

From his account of life on the bouncing wave, a sailor looms up as lord of all he surveys. Tyson stated that most of them made as high as $75 and $100 a month, counting wages and overtime, that they were provided with lodgings and food, and yet, that in most cases they were continually leaving their places of employment.

"You know a sailor," he said, off-hand, "as soon as they get about $200 ahead they like to stay ashore and spend it."

On the subject of sailors he also criticized the union demand that made the employed stop work twice a day for 15 minutes in each instance and give the sailors coffee.
This loss of half an hour a day, according to the witness, resulted in an appalling loss. He was unsparing of his criticism of the demands of sailors after the fire, when they went on strike in 1906.

Tyson praised the industrial accident compensation act in the highest terms, and said that it was administered in a way that met with the best approval of every employer in the state.

ADS. ARE POPULAR READING.

A newspaper's information also so varied it contains news to suit everyone. Some years ago a person who read the ads in a newspaper or magazine was considered odd, and it is true the ads were crude, the articles advertised often being out of season or of a style and texture entirely out of fashion. But now it is different.
Advertising makes the most interesting reading matter in the newspaper. It is instructive, teaching the public how to reduce the cost of living and at the same time get the best standard goods.

If you don't already read ads—get the habit—it's a liberal education.

Engaged Couple Are Guests Of Societies

The Philathes Society and the Baracca Boys of the Calvary Baptist church gave a farewell party in honor of Miss Daisy Smith and Don Hewey, who are planning to marry, and who will leave Richmond for the East. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. O. F. Lilley.

The couple have lived in Richmond for over six months and have made many friends here.

The evening was devoted to games, music and refreshments were served.

As a token of the friendship of the young people of the church a token of appreciation was presented to the two.

Among those present were Ruth Hall, Jennie Hall, Mabel Woods, Annie Woods, June Hitchcock, M. B. Roberts, Emmett Hitchcock, Frank Castle, Annie Beck, Ralph Beck, Nellie Beck, Hobart Kelly, Bonita Smith, Christina Dickinson, Ralph Lewis and Elizabeth Robertson.

MOOSEMEN HAVE DOUBLE SURPRISE

A delegation of Oakland Moose, planning a surprise on the Richmond "Papa," arrived on a car last night, and dropped in on the local boys for an evening of fun.

Hardly had they arrived when two or three of the local Moose made arrangements to hold a banquet in the Imperial Hotel. As the Oakland visitors were preparing to board a car for their home city, the Richmond lodge escorted them to the banquet rooms, and turned the surprise on them.

The banquet was served after 11 o'clock and until time for the last car to Oakland, feasting and speech making held away.

BUSINESS PICKING UP IS BRIGHT REPORT OF TRADES COUNCIL; MET LAST NIGHT

A large attendance was present at the regular session of the Building Trades council, held last night in the Lafor Temple. Several new delegates were seated. That street and cement work is improving and that work in building lines was also improving was the report of Business Agent Heckman. The report indicates that business is picking up and it was enthusiastically received. Heckman was granted a two weeks' vacation. During his absence G. W. Randolph will act in his place.

The executive committee held a busy session and a number of matters were put over for one week.

Chairman E. G. Wilson of the executive board was present at last night's meeting after an absence of several weeks, during which period he had been visiting in San Rafael.

DECIDE WHICH IS BETTER "9" IS DEMANDED

Richmond fandom as well as the boobs at Petaluma are wondering when the two clubs will tackle each other again. Manager Howard French of the local club said last night that Richmond would play, and according to pretty reliable information received from the chicken town, the Petaluma management is also willing for a match. Petaluma has been the only club this season to take a brace of games from the Elks. It is not the intention of the local fans to howl, but it does seem that their performance was worthy of another chance. Looking back over past history, it will be seen that the Elks in their first match with the Petalumas were handicapped to a great extent. In the second contest the club simply went to pieces. There are a bunch of fans all over the county who would like to see the two clubs get together once more to decide once and for all which is the better team.

When Martinez scribes (?) get a line on the above, we anticipate an article something like this:

"The poor little Elks are howling for another trimming at the hands of Petaluma. But should the hennery town magnates condescend to meet the Elks, it is a cinch that the poor Oil Town boys would be cleaned. They are landlubbers and a trip over the water such as would be necessary to get to Petaluma would undoubtedly result in seasickness and victory for the Petaluma team."

COLLEGE TOWN BOYS AND PT. ATHLETES SIGN

The Point Athletes will play the Wixsons of Berkeley on the Langa Park Sunday afternoon. Although the two teams have not met before to play, they are said to be evenly matched, and an exciting game is promised. Blone and Mitchell will be batteries for the local team.

A game has been arranged for Monday afternoon on the Langa Park grounds with the Outlaws.

COUNTY SEAT scribes should not worry. At least as long as their shears hold out and the News Sport Ed. hangs on.

IRON WORKS LINE-UP IS ANNOUNCED

The lineup of the Union Iron Works club, which will tangle with the Elks here next Sunday, was received last night. It follows: Burgess, p; Korn, c; Kelly, 1b; Markovitch, 2b; Pullen, 3b; Boyle, ss; Riceomia, lf; Terrill, rf; Ryan, cf. Richmond's battle array will remain unchanged. While not certain, Charlie Burns will probably open on the mound for the local nine. After giving the dope sheet the o. o., we have come to the conclusion that the Union Iron Works nine is going to receive a nice little spanking.

It is not unlikely that the Elks will be pitted against the Essanay team of Niles on the 13th. All that is necessary is the acceptance of terms presented by the local management and this is expected today. The "movie" boys are a fast bunch and will undoubtedly give our heroes a tough run. "Fodder" Dolan, official hurlsmith of the team, is considered one of the classiest pitchers in the bushes.

BARACAS AFTER LEE'S ANGORA

The Baraca baseball team of the Wesley Methodist church and Lee's Independents will meet in a royal diamond battle tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Both clubs are confident of victory and both predict the complete annihilation of the other in tomorrow's struggle. The Baraca club members last night stated that Lee's hirelings would be wiped up as far as baseball was concerned. The Baracas will present the following battle array: H. Garrard, c; Emerson Garrard, p; E. Hill, 1b; V. Hill, 3b; G. Axelson, ss; Clarence Brown, 2b; E. Bloomquist, rf; Ed Bloomquist, lf; Howe, cf; L. O. Cameron and A. Richards, substitutes.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

BY SCOOP

The most important step ever taken toward the enhancement of the growth and attractiveness of the two hiking societies in the high school was made yesterday when Principal B. X. Tucker announced the co-operation of the photographic department of the school in supplying films for picture taking, while on hikes. The department will also develop the films at a very nominal sum, enough to compensate for the materials used and the time required of the school photographer, Dayna Cox.

The announcement was heartily greeted and it is thought that several will take advantage of the general offer and preserve the scenes along their various hikes, by means of pictures. Such pictures will be "the evergreens in the wreath of memory," as Professor Gaseigh—"Buck" Hadley affirmed in the memorable production of "Seven-Twenty-Eight." The suggestion was also made that a joint hike be held of the two hiking clubs, the Junior Sierra club of the boys and the mysterious M. D. club of the girls. No action was taken on the suggestion, but it is probable that a short hike will be jointly taken by the club in a few weeks.

The membership of the two clubs now exceeds over fifty and they were heartily commended by Principal Tucker yesterday for adopting such a healthful and instructive recreation.

The surprise of the season has been uncorked. The Alumni team declare that they will win the game against the regulars on Saturday afternoon. This is such an unexpected assertion from the decrepit bunch of has-beens that the boys on the varsity team are astonished, and are consequently training hard to prevent the fulfillment of the assertion.

Despite the fact that the stars of the past years were good players, the fact yet remains that a trained team, trained such as the present team is, will undoubtedly tire the retired luminaries and gallop across the line "several" times.

Among those who will appear under the colors of the Alumni Association are Lipp, Welch, Janke, Stokes, Childs, Maddox, Ed Hoffman, McCormick, T. Poage, Richards, Donnelly and Adams.

A challenge from the St. Matthews military school of Burlingame, which it will be impossible to accept was received by Athletic Manager McAllister yesterday. The only dates the soldiers offered were September 12 and 19, which dates have already been taken by games with Berkeley high second team and Mt. Diablo high of Concord, respectively.

The debating department of the Rodeo club will hold a meeting tonight to discuss plans for the coming year's activities. Current events will also occupy considerable time of the members.

Great activity is again being shown in girls' basketball training. The girls' varsity basketball team has for several years past established such an enviable record among the schools of this part of the state that the girls turn out for practice with great regularity and spirit, realizing that they have an excellent tradition to live up to.

Several of the members of the football team are planning to take advantage of the football training list reduction at the U. C., and will purchase shoes slightly used by the unsuccessful aspirants to the varsity. The shoes will be sold at the school next Friday.

Many new members have been added to the Junior Sierra club since its announcement of the two-day hike and encampment at Frank Leagoon. Over a dozen students will make the trip, that will leave Saturday night and Sunday morning, and extensive arrangements are being made by the hikers to be sure and lay in a sufficient supply of hard-tack, potatoes, etc.

The expenses of the trip should not exceed $2, and the hike, being but seven miles from the Northwestern Pacific station of Almonte, is not at all exhausting.

Affiliation With a Strong Bank

is desirable because the selection of such a bank as your business partner reflects credit upon you and your judgment.

If you are entitled to financial assistance or general counsel, that bank with which you have allied yourself is the one most ready to aid you, because it is in a way your partner and because its officials know you and to what you are entitled.

This is so whether you are in business and need the assistance of a commercial bank like the First National Bank, or whether you have unemployed funds to place in a safe depository for a greater or less period of time at interest, like the Richmond Savings Bank.
